

Andrea Buzzell

Andrea is the human resource generalist at LaBreche.

In an organization that recognizes the incredible value of its individuals, Andrea is charged with ensuring that each employee's experience at LaBreche is as rewarding as the work that they do for their clients.

As one of the few individuals without a background in marketing or creative services, Andrea is truly energized by the amount and diversity of talent at the agency.

Before joining LaBreche, Andrea worked at Affinity Plus Federal Credit Union in Human Resources, and Bethel Care Center as the director of human resources.

Andrea earned her bachelor's degree in human resource management from Minnesota State University, Mankato, and is currently a candidate for a Master of Business Administration from Hamline University.
